

Executive Summary

The greatest liability in correctional environment is without question health care. County, state and Federal Governments spend millions of dollars a year fighting frivolous or real lawsuits related to inmate health care. CorrecTek gives you instant access to every lab, medication, order, and medical documentation for any specific inmate or the whole population. This instant access to the health of your jail or prison population gives you the power to make timely decisions and document every encounter in seconds.

CorrecTek's innovative correctional EMR assists health service administrators in managing the health care of inmates across the United States. The CorrecTek Correctional EMR system streamlines the health care operations for county jails, state penitentiaries and federal prisons. Institutions find efficiencies through better organization, better workflow and a reduction in health care liability and exposure.

Case studies have proven that with the implementation of the CorrecTek EMR system, correctional facilities can benefit from drastic reductions in health care costs per inmate (up to 20%) and find similar reductions (up to 85%) in daily inmate healthcare grievances.
